The Nord Center Social Media Practices

With the advancement of technology in recent years, it is no surprise that social media plays a large role in our lives. Social media is more than just Facebook and Twitter. It includes blogs, online networks, and any other Internet-based tools for sharing and discussing information.

The Nord Center understands that social media is a valuable learning resource and contribution tool. The Nord Center also realizes that social media is furthermore about connecting, helping others and having fun. Participation on The Nord Center sponsored social media sites is welcomed and encouraged, however it is asked that users help promote a safe and respectful social media environment. Comments on The Nord Center sponsored sites should be considerate, respectful, and productive; comments that are profane, obscene, offensive, sexually explicit, inappropriate, inflammatory, or otherwise objectionable are to be avoided and will be removed.

The Nord Center asks that you respect your own privacy along with others. Submitting personal health information about yourself or others on The Nord Center sponsored site may violate HIPAA regulations and will not be accepted for posting. Please be aware that when posting on The Nord Center sponsored sites, posts may be linked to your name and become publically available on the internet and accessible without limitation or protection of any kind.

When a comment or other materials are posted to The Nord Center sponsored sites, users give The Nord Center the right and license to exercise all copyright, publicity, and moral rights with respect to any content provided. This includes but is not limited to: displaying, modifying, reproducing, distributing, removing, creating other works from, and publishing your submission.
